Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

The Congressional investigation which Congress is making of the Townsend movement is an attempt to defeat by indirection what the individual members of that body are too cowardly to attack directly. Congress lives in deadly fear of organized minorities. From the standpoint of the yellow streak it is much better to undermine an organization such as the Townsend movement's wide flung clubs by "getting something" on its leadership than to fight the battle with it on its merits, or rather, lack of merits.

Thus far the investigation reveals the fact that a former real estate dealer got something over $12,000 for a years work in the direction of the Townsend propaganda and organization growth, and this does not seem to us to be excessive. Many real estate dealers earn that much money annually, though we doubt whether under any conditions this particular dealer would ever garner so much in a year.

It may be expected, however, that the Bell committee in Congress will gradually reveal Dr. Townsend for the visionary crackpot that the great majority of Americans already suspect he is. But at that we have much more respect for this aged dreamer than we have for the weaseling committee which is attempting to befoul the reputation of all those connected with the Townsend leadership rather than fight a manful battle against the economic delusion on which the whole movement rests.

We expect to see the sales tax reaffirmed in the November balloting, but the vote for and against will doubtless be much closer than many people imagine. There has been a constant rise during the depression in the number of those who do not own farms or homes. Marginal families, financially speaking, have lost out. The state not only has its own unfortunates in this respect, but it has been, and is, the Mecca of thousands of others who have moved out of drought, dust storms and floods, out of areas where unemployment was a dominating factor, and into California. These people embittered by a losing battle are ready to dump the tax burden on the home and land owner by repealing the sales tax and enacting the single, or land tax. In the long run we do not believe that the single tax would be as vicious as many would have us believe, because, in the long run, taxes have a way of being distributed and redistributed, so that everybody, high or low, must in the end shoulder each one his share. The really damning feature of the single tax, as we see it, is that many more families would lose their homes or farms, escheat them to the state, and that the state has no competent and efficient method of taking care of all the property which it would thus take over. It would simply prove another opportunity for politicians to wax fat and for corruption to honeycomb our state government.

The state has already proved its incompetence in the wasteful and costly land settlement failure at Delhi, a few miles south of Turlock. It was the most botched, mismanaged and malodorous scheme ever hatched in California. Hundreds of poor families slaved there for years and finally failed to obtain title to their miserably small homesites. But in the meantime, while these poor people were vainly straining and striving toward that ideal of every upstanding American, to own their own homes, to be self sustaining and self respecting, the state government's brass hats and high boots were drawing down handsome salaries for taking the lead roles in a monstrous tragedy.

Now, if the state failed so signally in the management of a single colony of only a few thousand acres, what would happen were the state to become lord of some millions of acres escheated for non-payment of taxes scattered the length and breadth of California? More brass hats and high boots and incompetence at big salaries on parade. Favored henchmen of dishonest state officials winning a fortune in land deals. More people, at least during the transition years, forced into the ranks of the unemployed. More transients at the lower end of the line, more corruption at the top. The sales tax is by no means ideal, but let us not leap from this frying pan into the fire.

Mrs. Jane Barton And Her Cooking School Delight Audiences

Large audiences greeted Mrs. Jane Barton, leader in the Home Craft Institute and Cooking School, held in the Nevada Theatre Wednesday and yesterday. Today is the last day, between 2 and 4:30 o'clock and the largest crowd of the series is expected.

Mrs. Barton was introduced to her audience Wednesday by Judge Geo. L. Jones. In his short address Judge Jones referred to the importance of the woman's part in making homes attractive, meals wholesome and the table a pleasant place for the family to gather around. He attributed much domestic unhappiness and resultant divorces, to the inability of the partners in marriage to create a happy home environment. Much devolved upon the woman in the partnership. Upon her training and ability to put into practice the best means for making a home attractive, for preparing and cooking the meals, and for coping successfully with the many details in making a house and garden a place beloved by every member of the family, much depended.

Mrs. Barton in her afternoon talks tells of new ways of cooking, the best methods of preparing batter for cakes, the ingredients that prove most successful in baking, stewing and roasting foods. She describes and demonstrates the new appliances for use in the kitchen to make the work easier and the food more palatable and attractive.

At the close of the hour the winners of the door prizes are announced. Wednesday the winners were:

PARK BOARD EMPLOYS LIFE GUARD FOR POOL

Verle Gray, grandson of the late T. B. Gray, one of the early principals of the Washington grammar school, and son of Charles Gray, born in this city, will be this season's life guard at the swimming pool in Pioneers Park. Young Gray is also the grandson of the late George W. Ragon of this city and Miss Marietta Ragon of Grove street is his aunt.

Gray for seven years was assistant manager and life guard at the big municipal baths in Lodi, where the family now resides, and has had long and intensive training in the work. He is married and Mrs. Gray, who had a good business experience prior to her marriage, will have charge of the refreshment booth at the pool. She is an accomplished swimmer and athlete.

The park commission meeting on Monday evening, besides deciding to employ Mr. and Mrs. Verle Gray at the pool, discussed methods of filtering the water and using copper sulphate to combat algae and bacilli in the water. The commission hopes to install this improvement at the pool prior to the opening which will probably be shortly after June 1.

The High School P. T. A. are preparing for a splendid food sale Saturday. Mrs. Carl Tobiassen, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Phil Harding spent Wednesday soliciting pies, cakes, salads and bread, etc. and met with good response. Mrs. Phil Harding, as a delegate leaves Monday for San Jose to attend a P. T. A. convention.

Mr. George Schrader of the local Tahoe Forest service office who has been assisting in conducting a school of instruction in the district office in San Francisco, was expected home last evening. Mrs. Schrader accompanied him and has been visiting in the bay district.

STATE FORESTRY CAMPS GET NEW BUILDINGS

A heavy program of construction is going on in the state forestry camps under supervision of State Fire Warden Will F. Sharp with WPA men doing the work.

At the camp at Nevada City's southern limits a new five room house, barracks and warehouse are well under way. A good sized barracks for men, and warehouse are being built at the camp on Shady Creek north of Nevada City. The WPA also has under construction at Colfax a barracks and warehouse, while five buildings are being built at Camp Auburn with men from the Greenwood Camp.

BIG DELEGATION OF SACRAMENTO ROTARY VISITORS

Twenty five Rotarians from Sacramento took charge of the program of the Nevada City Rotary club at the National hotel luncheon yesterday with Jack Lynn, member of the Sacramento school board was program chairman and toastmaster. Professor M. Brickley, registrar of Sacramento Junior College was among those who made short addresses.

Professor Brickley will deliver the address of Public Schools Week in this city next Wednesday. His topic will be "Italy and Afrlct." For many years Prof. Brickley has been engaged in giving talks to adult groups in the cities of the Sacramento Valley and adjacent counties. He has a wide grasp of world affairs and the people of this city are assured of an unusual opportunity to obtain a view of world mutations, such as rarely is obtainable.

Among other prominent Sacramentans was Charles Hughes, superintendent of Sacramento schools.

The Sacramento visiting Rotarians were: Jack Lynn, A. C. Hughees, M. J. Brickley, J. P. Keating, president of Sacramento Rotary, Al Henderson, Tom Scollan, Toh Hanrahan, Bob Schousch, Emil Chappelle, Hanly McCurry, Jos. Rowray, Bill Geary, Jr., Stanley Scarfe, Percy Reese, Ed Deschler, Cliff Mott, Carl Udall and Harold Shay.

Groceries and other edibles such as hams, confectionery and potables such as beer were raffled off during the luncheon and the amount realized therefrom was $30. This sum was added to the Nevada City Rotary club's charity fund.

SENIOR FARCE TO BE PRESENTED NEXT THURSDAY

The annual Senior farce of the local high school will be presented Thursday evening, April 30, at the Nevada Theatre, the play selected this year being "Three Cornered Moon" by Gertrude Tonkonogy. A preliminary one act play, entitled: "The Wedding," will be presented previous to the longer production. Miss Nancy Jones, faculty member at Nevada City high, is directing the performances, and is ably assisted by several other faculty members in making the show a complete success.

The story deals with the experiences of the Rimplegar family, which is, indeed, moonstruck. When the play starts the family is wealthy, but due to investments in stock on margin, they are financially ruined by the crash of 1929. The members of the family then become a group with a purpose. The satirical manner in which the Rimplegars make fun of life adds sophisticated chatter to this very enjoyable play.

The one act play concerns the experiences of a bridegroom on the eve of his wedding. A lost collar-button results in a number of interesting and laugh provoking occasions, and the play is not to suffer from comparisons of humor with the production.

The casts of both plays will appear in Monday's Nugget.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cleveland and granddaughter, Earline Cleveland of Sacramento spent Sunday in Nevada City visiting Mr. Cleveland's mother, Mrs. J. S. Landon.

Sound Great Hewgag! E Clampus Vitus To Organize Lodge Here

Sound the great Hewgag!

The Ancient and Honorable Order of E. Clampus Vitus is to be revived and rejuvenated in the city of Nevada.

Sound the great Hewgag!

On and after May 1, any male of Nevada City, who does not show three square inches of whiskers, shall be duly apprehended, brought before the court of the Whiskerinos and, unless he can produce a doctor's certificate testifying to his incapacity to raise whiskers, will be given his choice of $5 fine or an indefinite residence in the Whiskerino Hoosegow.

Sound the great Hewgag!

On the afternoon of the Fourth of July, following the big parade and festivities in Nevada City streets, there will be a home coming picnic in Pioneers park with dancing and merrymaking in Seaman's lodge, baseball games on the new municipal diamond at the park, provided of course that the grounds are placed in order by that time, and a general reunion of today's and yesterday's residents of Nevada County.

These were some of things accomplished Wednesday at a meeting of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce. Charles Leiter, chairman of the Fourth of July committee, delegated to the Woman's Civic Club, as a committee of the whole, the work of acquainting all former residents of Nevada county with the plans for the forthcoming celebration and picnic and inviting them to come home for this event. The high school staff will be asked to write all alumni and specially issue them invitations to return for the big celebration in their home city.

Ted Janiss, chairman of the Whiskerino Club, outlined plans for bringing to Nevada City delegations of the Auburn, Placerville and the Roseville Whiskerinos, in the near future so that Nevada City's club may be properly ushered into its sphere of activity.

George Calanan and H. M. Leete were appointed a committee to organize a chapter of the Ancient and Honorable Order of E. Clamps Vitus.

In the earlier part of the evening, with President Fred E. Conner presiding, the Chamber discussed the Downieville highway and the problem of getting a better road into Alleghany. It was the consensus of opinion that if Alleghany would unite strongly in favor of a new highway below the snow line, that the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce would do everything in its power to assist. It was pointed out that the recent recommendation of the State Chamber of Commerce that $300,000 be expended on the Downieville highway during the next biennium, had a very good chance of being favorably acted upon by the State Highway Commission.

The airport came in for discussion and Ed C. Uren, member of that committee recommended that the U. S. aviation branch office in San Francisco be asked to make an examination of the Nevada City airport. Uren declared the field is now unsafe, and though the field is listed among those which the U. S. aviation authorities, as a safe landing, this was done before the heavy storms here, causing erosions and gullies. He said that steps should be taken by means of red flags to warn pilots against landing there. Owing to a lack of WPA labor, George Calanan stated, there is no chance of using an $18,000 appropriation made by WPA for putting the airport in good condition.

NOR. SAN JUAN PLANS FOR JUNE CHERRY FIESTA

Under the auspices of the San Juan Ridge Improvement League plans are being rapidly matured for another Cherry Carnival. The North San Juan Cherry Carnival is probably the oldest cherry festival in California, dating back into the eighties.

Elaborate preparations are under way for this historic event and it is promised that the program will surpass all other celebrations held at North San Juan. Frank Mill, president of the league, and his committee which will be announced soon, are laying the ground work for this fiesta which scheduled to be held June 13 and 14.

SERVICES SATURDAY FOR MURDOCK MORRISON

Murdock Morrison, who has followed mining in Grass Valley and Alleghany practically all his life, passed away at the family home in Grass Valley Wednesday evening. Mr. Morrison's death followed several months of illness.

He held a responsible position in the 16-to-1 mine at Allghany for many years.

Mr. Morrison leaves four daughters, two grown and two minors, one being Mrs. J. Bailey of Grass Valley and two sons.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of Holmes-Hooper Funeral Home in Grass Valley. Funeral services will be held Saturday at two o'clock with burial being made in Elm Ridge cemetery, the Odd Fellow lodge of which he was a member conducting the solemn funeral service of the order.

SCOTIA MINE

Pumping and hoisting have been under way for several days at the Scotia property west of Grass Valley and a part of the Cooley Butler holdings. Three shifts have been put on and a heavy flow of water seems to be under control as miners go forward with cleaning out the shaft and testing timbers which they are finding in good condition after several years of idleness. In recent weeks a hoist house and tool shop have been constructed.

CITY COUNCIL BANS DANGEROUS CRACKERS, BOMB

After electing Ben Hall to be mayor, and seating the two new city councilmen, Charles Leiter and Frank Davies, last Monday evening, the city council proceeded to lay down regulations to govern the use of fire works in Nevada City on the Fourth of July. No firecrackers more than three inches long, no bombs or other highly dangerous fire works, will be permitted in the city limits The chief of police was asked to rigidly enforce these regulations.

ARIZONA WOMAN DEVELOPES NEW ALLEGHANY MINE

Backed by Mrs. George Holmes, joint owner of the Silver Queen of Arizona, the Wyoming claims, now known as the Seven Aces mine, on the road from Alleghany to Forest, is being developed at a rapid rate.

Fourteen men under Mr. Lashbaugh, superintendent of the property, are engaged in ruuning a 1000 foot cross cut to reach the Dead River vein, a vein known to be one of the richest in the Alleghany district. The shaft has already been sunk 400 feet and the cross cut is now 700 feet long with an excellent showing of ore. Lashbaugh believes that a mine will be developed there equal to some of the best in the fabulous Alleghany district.

The mine has been equipped with everything necessary for speedy and efficient working.

In Memory Of My Dog

(By KATHERINE BRAITHWAITE)

The trail of life upon this earth was difficult for you,
Old Fellow,
And dull your scent to worldly hunts but keen for higher planes.
Wistful, tired eyes you closed to me and stilled a faithful heart, Old Fellow
That you'd be blind to fuss and strife and free from ills and pains.

My heart grieves and aches for you and bitter tears o'erflow my eyes, Old Fellow,
No matter, now, how hard I tried to make your life all joy.
Very soon the mould of Mother Earth will close me in and be my pillow—
So life is with humans, Old Friend, I too, am but a toy.
Each golden falling leaf whispers sweet, the memories of you, Old Fellow.
But naught can send you back to me nor make you whole,

Even though my useless sobs are loud and reach unto the clouds, Old Fellow,
The law of Life's demanding, Nature doth take her toll.
I have laid you tenderly at rest beneath the redwood trees, Old Fellow,
Where robins sing above you and wild flowers gently sway.
My dearest hope, my prayer, my consolation, dear friend and faithful fellow,
Is that we two shall meet again and walk the trails for ay.

HISTORY SHOWS FARM PANACEAS ALWAYS FAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—Short cuts and theoritical cure-alls, throughout the history of agriculture, have failed to solve the problems of the farmer, to reduce his surpluses or to increase prosperity, according to a survey made here today by the Research Division of the Republican State Central Committee.

Practically all, it is found, have failed as permanent policies and generally have resulted in increased surpluses, lower prices and harmful dislocations.

Some of the typical failures include:

The Stevenson rubber control plan, the international sugar agreement, the Brazilian coffee defense under which 36,000,000 bags of coffee were burned, and the Russian five year plan in spite of which more than 4,000,000 persons are reported to have died of starvation in 1933, and the Roosevelt farm plan fiasco in the United States.

The Roosevelt farm board plan had the following results: Not only did excessive cotton price pegging loans cause the accumulation of more than 4.500,000 bales of cotton on which the New Deal now has a loss of $34,000,000, but the artificial price level and restricted production in this country have stimulated Brazil and other countries to develop commercial cotton production which probably will take away at least a million bales of our foreign trade.

With wheat, although $200,200,000 was paid to growers in 1933 and 1934, the reduction in 1934 due to the Roosevelt program was only 25,000,000 bushels which had little effect on the price. The increase in wheat prices was practically entirely due to the drouth. This year, in spite of $98,200,000 spent to June 30, 1935, it is probably that the largest wheat crop in eight years will be raised and prices will drop again.

In the hog program, the Roosevelt plan was responsible for only 30 per cent of the hog crop reduction, but this was the decrease that forced pork prices high enough to cause serious consumer resistance. The other 70 per cent of the hog reduction was due to drouth. Without Roosevelt meddling farmers would have had more hogs to sell at a good average price. With corn the New Dealers in 1934 reduced the crop by 200,000,000 bushels but the drouth cut it to more than a billion. The increased price of corn in 1934 was caused mainly by the drouth. But in spite of the corn program, in 1935, a crop of 2,200,000 bushels has been made and the price is now below fifty cents.

Net operating profit of Idaho Maryland Mines Corporation, one of California's leading gold producers for 1935, before depletion, depreciation and amortization, was $1,168,228.92 or $7,.343 per ton compared with $628,505, or $7.832 per ton in 1934, according to the annual report by E. L .Oliver, president and Errol MacBoyle, managing director.

Total gross income from gold sales, custom ore treatment, and non-operating income amounted to $2,558,243.62 as compared with $1,513,449.83 in 1934. Total operating expenditures, including development, compensation insurance, taxes, alterations and repairs to plant and equipment and overhead expense were $1,390,014.70 or $8.737 per ton, as compared with $884,944.49 or $11.028 in 1934.

During 1935, 159,091 tons of ore were produced as against 80,237 tons in 1934. Of this tonnage, 83,137 tons were exxtracted through Idaho Maryland shaft and 75,954 tons through Brunswick shaft. Out of total production, 72,755 tons were derived from development work, 78,697 tons from stoping operations and 7,639 tons from reclaiming old workings. In addition, the company reclaimed old tailings totaling 52,221 tons and handled 26,206 tons of custom ore, making a grand total of 237,518 tons treated in the company's metallurgical plants.

Gross recovered value from 159,091 tons of ore mined was $2,452,178.89, at an average value of $15.41 per ton as compared to $1,472,901.88, with an average of $18.35 per ton in 1934. Loss of gold in the tailings last year averaged only 72c per ton, compared with $1.24 in 1934. Gross value of 1935 ore was therefore $16.13 per ton compared to $19.60 for 1934. Decrease in gross value was caused by larger tonnage of lower grade ore from Brunswick operations.

Total recovered value from reclaimed old tailings was $89,219.74 at an average of $1.71 per ton, which, with a tailing loss of 92 cents, gives a gross value to tailings of $2.63 per ton. This extraction was not satisfactory, and work on reclaiming these old tailings has been suspended pending installation of cyanide leaching plant.

Total value of customs ore purchased was $219,313.60.

During the year 22,571 feet of development work was done as compared to 12,488 in 1934. From this development work, and repairs to old workings, there were extracted 80,394 tons of ore and 35,604 tons of waste. Diamond drilling of 8,164 feet of holes resulted in discovery of new quartz veins and furnished evidence of extensions of known ore deposits.

About $216,032 was expended for additions to plant and equipment. A 2250 cubic foot air compressor and electrical equipment were installed at the Brunswick shaft, but the major part of the expense was for metallurgical plant, including a complete unit near the Brunswick shaft of which the larger items were an 8' x 6' Marcy Mill, Dorr "F" Classifier, riffles, and six 56" Fagergren flotation cells, bringing the total rated capacity of this mill unit to 400 tons per day. Additional riffles and flotation cells were added to the Idaho Maryland Mill with a resultant improvement in the metallurgical recovery.

During 1936 it is planned to explore the downward continuation of known Idaho Maryland ore bodies below the 2000 foot level. Development of the many new veins recently opened on various levels of the Brunswick shaft will be continued. In due time the Union Hill veins will be developed from the Brunswick shaft workings and consideration is being given to sinking the Brunswick shaft to a depth of 4000 feet for the development and efficient extraction of the Brunswick, Union Hill and Idaho Maryland ore bodies.

The company has acquired control on very favorable terms of approximately 3000 acres of contiguous mining claims, both patented and un-patented, near Forbestown.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE TO AID STATE FARMERS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. — Procedure for obtaining workers to harvest California's 1936 bumper crops, is in operation throughout the state, it was announced today by John A. Stellern, State Director of the National Re-employment Service.

"Growers should make their requests known at the nearest employment service office as soon as possible," he said.

"The National Re-employment Service does not duplicate the state employment servive but complements it. There is a National Re-employment Service office in every county of the state where state employment service does not maintain a branch. Growers should apply at either one or the other of these employment service offices. The offices generally are in the county seat .

"When the growers request workers, every effort will be made immediately to obtain in the community qualified agricultural workers who are available for employment. In the event the local supply of qualified agricultural workers becomes exhausted, the employment service will reach out into adjacent territory and bring in the number of additional workers required to care adequately for local needs. Growers should state plainly the kinds of worker desired, wages to be paid, hours of labor and whether living quarters are provided. It would be helpful also to state possible daily earnings of experienced and inexperienced workers.

"Requests for workers should be made well in advance of the actual need so that a 'bottle neck' in the flow of workers to the field will not be created."

ASSESSMENT WORK ON CLAIMS IS SUSPENDED

Dispatches from Washington state that the Borah bill providing for suspension of annual assessment work on mining claims held by location in the United States was passed April 20, by the house and sent to the president for signature.

Effective only for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1936, claimants under the bill must show they were entitled to exemption from federal income tax payment for the 1935 tax year.

Moreover, the bill provides that suspension of assessment work cannot apply to more than six lode or placer mining claims held by the same person, nor to more than twelve held by the same partnership, association or corporation.

This moratorium was put in effect in 1917 or during the World War to protect men who had gone to war.

Last year about 300 claim holders took advantage of the moratorium and about 300 performed their assessment work. Upon investigation it was found many men had done a large portion of their work and sworn in the moratorium. In some cases this moratorium applied to the six lode claims held by large claim holders.

This law has not been abused in this district and has been a blessing to those who were unable to go to the extra expense of assessment work.

YUBA PASS OPEN

The Yuba Pass, after being closed for several months is open to automobile travel. It is now possible to drive to Downieville, and Sierra City and on to Reno by way of Sierraville, Loyalton and Chilcott. Until the road is completely dry and danger of storms is passed it is advisable to carry chains. About four feet of hard packed snow lay on the ground at Yuba Pass last Sunday.

PIONEER OF NEV. CITY CELEBRATES 89TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Sarah Clutter celebrated her 89th birthday Monday, April 20, in her cozy home on upper Nevada street. Relatives, friends and members of the Birthday Club entertained her over the week end.

Mr. A. Richards and sister, Miss Richards called Sunday and gave Mrs. Clutter a delightful auto ride. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker came in for a short visit and enjoyed dainty refreshments. Monday the Birthday Club members gathered for a delightful afternoon. The main feature of the dainty refreshments was a big birthday cake. Mrs. Clutter was the recipient of many lovely gifts and among those sending cards were: Mrs. Frank Nilon, Mrs. Alva Morgan, Mrs. D. May, Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. Dunlap. Among those calling were Mrs. P. G. Scadden, Miss Gertrude Goyne, Mrs. R. Goyne, Mrs. Ed Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Armstrong.

Mr. Armstrong, a neighbor, gave Mrs. Clutter a short ride about town to see the many new buildings, as she had been down town only two times in three years. She saw the new grammar school and city hall under construction. A glance at the new bank of America building and several remodeled business houses made her realize a vast improvement had taken place in the city.

Vivacious and happy she recalled many incidents of pioneer days. She was born in Phoenix, Penn., in 1847 coming by boat with her mother and sister to the Isthmus of Panama, crossing the isthmus by pack train, then by boat to San Francisco. They enjoyed Christmas aboard the boat and landed in San Francisco, December 27. They travelled by coach to Nevada City arriving in Grass Valley New Years day. They were then taken to the old Gold Tunnel house on the Gold Tunnel mine property in Nevada City, in which her father, Timothy Giles was interested.

Mrs. Giles had purchased a large $11 white lace hat and two large leghorn hats for herself and daughters in New York City. The large hats were hard to carry in their large boxes. On the rough road from Grass Valley to Nevada City Mr. Edward Northey volunteered to hold the larger box as Mrs. Giles was weary from her long journey. When they hit a rut the box slipped, falling under the wagon wheel and was destroyed.

After the family had been here six weeks a dam broke on Deer Creek east of Nevada City carrying away many homes and business houses. As the wall of water advanced it also took the three stamp mill and a huge quantity of mined ore at the Gold Tunnel mine at Nevada City's western limits.

Mrs. Clutter's parents lived where the Narrow Gauge depot now stands. They sold the property to the railroad company in 1867. Mrs. Clutter as a bride moved into her present home. Mrs. Lulu Clutter, a daughter resides near her mother, a son, Will Clutter, passed away about a year ago. Mrs. Clutter has three grandchildren and grandson, namely, Harry Jones and son of Redwood City, Miss Hazel Jones, teacher at Pismo Beach, Miss Mary Jones, teacher at Monterey.

Mrs. Clutter's father was an engineer for many years being employed by the Sneath and Clay mine, on Gold Flat; Bogs mine, near the old Champion; several Grass Valley mines and two years in Mexico.

She stated while never rich they were always comfortable and contented. Life, while it has brought deep sorrows to her in deaths, of loved ones, has been rich in happiness and true western hospitality. Hers was also a joyous young life with many parties and horse back rides. Children enjoyed different amusements in those days. She played with the burros at the Gold Tunnel mine. She had never heard a burro bray and was almost speechless when the one she was riding drew a long breath puffed up his little body and started a long sonorous "hee haw." She slid off and hastily darted into the house. It took several days to induce her to ride again.

Mrs. Clutter's favorite actor is Harold Lloyd whose birthday also occurs on April 20. Mrs. Allison Watt, revered pioneer of Grass Valley, also born on April 20, is a close friend.

The Birthday Club was formed about 11 years ago. Mrs. Clutter is a charter member. She is also a charter member of Neva Rebekah Lodge, she and Mrs. Ivey, mother of Dr. J. R. Ivey are the only surviving members of a large class.

The many friends of Mrs. Clutter unite in wishing for her many happy returns of her birthday.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR SNEATH-CLAY MINE

At the Sneath and Clay mine on Gold Flat it is a surprise to note the amount of building and repairs that have been made in the last few weeks.

The dry house has been repaired and showers installed; a good sized store room and office have been built near the shaft mouth; a blacksmith shop is almost completed and the machine for sharpening drills is installed.

Repairs have been made to the gallows frame, hoist house and ore bin, and the tramway is practically rebuilt. A new compressor is also being installed.

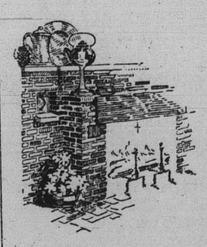
Three shifts of 17 men are employed under Superintendent B. L. Eastman, of Nevada City. The men are widening the bottom of the 400 foot shaft.

Personal

Miss Neita Botting of San Francisco, is spending several days in Nevada City with her schoolmate, Miss Beth Young. She will attend Miss Young's wedding on Saturday.

Mr. R. L. P. Bigelow and Mr. Leland Smith of the Tahoe National Forest attended a meeting of the fish and game commission in Auburn Tuesday.

Thru the Knot Hole
A Glimpse of Building Activity



The modern home, particularly the type of homes built up here in our hills should have a fireplace. The most economical as well as one of the finest appearing is the one with a Heatilator fireplace furnace built into the units Can be installed in any type of construction, field stone brick, etc.

Contractor Curley Stephens has started construction on a new home for Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick. This will be a fine addition to our community homes.

We are still banging away on the idea of painting your home. Many of the homes in the community show the need of paint. Besides the poor appearance of the house needing paint, your investment is jeopardized by the lack of the protection that the new paint job will give your house.

Activity in the mines in the outlying districts, gravel as well as other mines is shown by the building materials being ordered out for these points. We furnish every kind of materials for mines from mining wedges to timbers for the rigs.

The roof of your new home is the most important item from the standpoint of weather protection.

Make yours a safe roof with our cedar or redwood shingles, split pine shakes or the Pabco roofing or shingles. All are stocked by us for your convenience.

A DIFFERENCE

The dear old lady smiled at the little girl who had been left in sole charge of the confectioner's shop.

"And don't you feel tempted to eat one of the cream buns, my dear?" she asked.

The little girl was quite shocked.

"Oh, dear, no!" she replied. "That would be stealing. I only lick them."

BEER AND WINE TAX SHOWS GAIN

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—Taxes on beer and wine began their seasonal increase in March, with a total assessment of $152,736 for the month, Ray Edgar, member of the State Board of Equalization, reported today.

A heavy increase in the March assessment for this year was noted by Edgar, as the assessment for the month in 1935 was but $108,486.

"Gradual elimination of the bootlegger from the liquor business is undoubtedly responsible for much of the increase in these taxes," Edgar declared.

"Contrary to public belief, evasion of the state tax on wine has been more prevalent than similar evasion of the distilled spirits tax. We are constantly uncovering large quantities of untaxed wine made by unlicensed manufacturers and this effort is being reflected in the tax returns.

"Better business conditions have contributed their part in this tax increase, but this factor cannot be given entire credit for the increase."

TAXES POUR INTO OFFICE OF COUNTY TREASURER

Last day receipts of second installment taxes in County Treasurer Steele's office Monday amounted to $13,045.70, as compared with $17,008.05 for the corresponding day last year. The decrease was due largely to the lower tax rate, and the fact that a larger proportion of tax payers had paid both first and second installments when taxes became due last December.

Friends in this city have received word from Mrs. Fred Tourtellotte of Big Creek, that her husband and two other men were injured from explosion of a refrigerator they were repairing. All three men are in a hospital in Fresno. Mr. and Mrs. Tourtellotte own a home in Willow Valley east of this city, and their friends hope the injuries are not serious.

REPORT MADE TO P. T. A. ON NEED OF TESTS FOR T. B.

The Nevada City high school Parent-Teacher Association met at the high school Monday evening. It was decided to send the president, Mrs. Harding, as a delegate, to the state convention at San Jose. A food sale will be held Saturday morning to raise money for expenses.

Miss Ann Zchokke explained the tuberculin test, and told of the work of the Tuberculosis Associations. Their work is preventive, rather than curative. Since their organization thirty years ago, cases of the disease have declined two-thirds. Parents were assured that the liquid used in the tests was carefully sterilized, and contained no tubercle bacilli also, tuberculosis is contracted only through contact with the disease and is never inherited. Children should not be alarmed if the reaction is positive, as that does not prove that the disease is active, merely that the germs have been present at some time. Being underweight or hollow chested does not necessarily indicate the presence of the disease. But loss of weight, loss of appetite, pain in chest, a lingering cough, and especially night sweats should be promptly investigated.

Mr. Kjorlie gave a comparison of tuition and fees to various colleges. He said that since a high school is accredited mainly on the quality of work done by its students in the university, the students should have a feeling of responsibility toward the home institution. Going to college merely for the social contacts, to join fraternities and sororities, or to kill time, injures the standing of the home school, and does the student little good.

The Boys' and Girls' Chorus sang several lively numbers. They are doing splendid work under the direction of Mrs. Libbey.

GAS TAX RETURN HITS NEW PEAK

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—Gasoline tax assessments for March totalled $4,404,051, a figure surpassed only once in the history of the gasoline tax in this state.

The assessment for March, 1935, was $3,243,021, showing an increase for the current gasoline tax report of 36 per cent, Edgar said.

"Lowering of the price structure during the past few months is apparently responsible for this huge distribution of gasoline," it was explained.

"Although a large number of the smaller companies discontinued operations when prices fell, the total distribution continued to climb. The price of gasoline has been raised during the past two weeks and it is probable that distributions will resume their normal trend in the near future."

HERE'S A WAY TO CUT DEATH TOLL ON HIGHWAYS

Here is a plan, submitted in the following letter, which cuts auto accidents and casualties almost in half. The letter by Robert Gates gives the details:

Mr. H. M. Leete,
Editor Nevada City Nugget:
Dear Sir:

The following plan, with sufficient changes to put teeth into its operation—has proved effective in the city of Dallas, Texas, for some months and has decreased automobile accidents in that city 42 per cent.

I suggest that each community in California choose a number of responsible citizens willing to cooperate with the Motor Vehicle Department without pay to aid in coping with the consistent traffic violator—a vigilante aggregation chosen from among those who have at least ten years of non-accident driving to their credit.

Instruct these men thoroughly in traffic laws, rules and regulations. When they have passed a specially prepared examination, give them the same authority for the issuance of traffic tags or tickets as is held by the members of the Traffic Squad, with stringent rules applying to them personally whereby they would have no opportunity to abuse the authority vested in them—their work to be done in the ordinary course of the day's business.

What will be the result? Through the press we will read that small communities have appointed, say, twenty men to serve with "The Honor Bridage", cooperating with the Motor Vehicle Department to curb traffic offenders. Over the radio we will hear constantly that Sacramento has added 100 members to the "Honor Brigade." San Francisco, 300. Los Angeles, 500. They will be everywhere, but, who are they? What tell tale identifying marks to warn the careless, unwary, don't give-a-damn driver who forever takes a chance with his own life and the lives of others? Neither you or I would know until we are invited to the curb to be started on the way to certain punishment. Would that driver take the chance if he were haunted by the constant fear that to take a chance means certain capture? Think it over.

It is the writer's firm belief that here is one certain means of cutting down the death toll of our highways, and, should the suggestion meet with popular approval—I trust that measures be taken to bring the matter before the Motor Vehicle Department of our state government.

ROBERT GATES.

FORMER NEV. CITY HI GIRL WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Eleanor Willoughby, the daughter of Mrs. I. L. Putnam, formerly Mrs. Elsie Willoughby, has won a scholarship in Mills College, thus adding to the many honors in scholarship that were awarded her in the Nevada City high school where she was a student for two years.

The announcement of the Mills College scholarship award appeared in a Marysville paper to which Miss Willoughby for the past year or two has been a contributor. Her family removed from this city to Yuba City nearly two years ago and since that time Miss Willoughby, in the larger school, has duplicated her excellent record here. She is a life member of the California Scholarship Federation and has always appeared on the quarterly honor roll. She is vice president of the Yuba City Quill and Scroll Society, and has done outstanding work in journalism during her junior and senior years in the high school.

FORMER RESIDENTS ARE VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bowman who have been on a tour of southern California, and part of Arizona returned via Boulder Dam and went to Alturas where they have purchased Rudy's auto court and service station. They will take it over May first.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowman conducted a barber shop and beauty parlor in Nevada City for four years and sold out several weeks ago on account of Mr. Bowman's health. Both feel fine from their vacation and have the best wishes of a wide circle of friends in Nevada City.

ALLEGHANY TEACHER HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Miss Marie Simes, teacher in the Alleghany schools, last Sunday was hurt in an auto accident near the checking station east of Truckee and was taken to St. Mary's hospital in Reno where she is now recovering. With John Sbaffi and another young woman, she was enroute to Reno when for some unexplained reason the car left the road and was practically wrecked against a boulder. Miss Simes sustained a broken shoulder and other injuries. The other two were bruised and cut.

BIG AIR SHOW AT AIRPORT SUNDAY

R. M. Murray and associated air staff of Hollywood will give an air-show at Nevada City's airport next Sunday. He and Cy Privett arrived Wednesday in their Seedwing Travelair and are making preparations for a spectacular day Sunday.

The Travelair is the same ship that Murray used in his role in the film "Devil Dogs of the Air." Dorothy Barden nationally known as one of the most daring parachute jumpers in this country will be present on the field.

Among the many stunts will be upside down flying by Privett, Wild Bill Branden in a tiny commercial plane, balloon busting, serpentine cutting, and stunting high and fancy. Passengers will be carried aloft in either cabin or open planes.

The Willow Valley Tuesday club met at the home of Mrs. Carl J. Tobiassen Tuesday afternoon. After enjoying a delicious luncheon at one o'clock the members crochetted dresses. Guests present for the delightful afternoon were, Mrs. Andrew Tobiassen and Mrs. Lila Gibson.

THIS MAN WENT 'OFF RELIEF' VIA POULTRY ROUTE

BERKELEY, April 23.—The story of a family of seven—father, mother and five children—who had been living in a chicken coop when aid reached them in the form of a rehabilitation loan, came to light today in the records of the Resettlement Administration.

The father, an unemployed meat cutter, on relief, "got tired of taking handouts" and determined to fight his way back to economic security by raising chickens.

He leased two acres in the suburbs. With money earned at odd jobs, which included pick and shovel work, he acquired lumber to build a chicken coop.

The family moved into the chicken coop. This saved house rent. He had to "figure out a way" to buy chicks and build a house.

He put in a garden. When the garden began producing, he went off relief.

His next move was to apply to the Rural Rehabilitation Division of Resettlement Administration for a loan. While the loan was pending, he started digging the basement for a home. Mother and children helped.

When the loan came through the family moved into the basement, which had been roofed, and 1200 chicks took over the coop. He secured lumber from a discarded house, and although without carpentry experience, completed the house.

The loan was $1043 and it went for 1200 white leghorn chicks, poultry feed, house repairs, miscellaneous farm expense, one cow, subsistence.

Today, the records reveal, this family is self-sustaining. Back taxes have been cleared up. Payments on the government loan are being made regularly out of earnings.

"We've licked the depression" is their proud boast.

CEMENT SIDEWALK ON SACRAMENTO COMPLETED

Cement sidewalk under PWA workers was finished on Sacramento street early this week and cement poured on the strip of sidewalk at the Plaza that faces the "waterfront." Sidewalks will also be put in on the 165 foot strip west of the R. J. Bennetts home on the Downieville highway; on Pine street near the Hoge home and another section on East Broad street.

X-RAY TESTS FOR T. B. REACTORS

The "third day" tuberculin tests were taken by 165 of the students at the local high school on Wednesday morning, and the final report is yet to be given by the authorities in charge of the examination.

For those who gave positive reactions to the tests and who need further examinations, free X-rays will be taken to determine the seriousness of the individual case.

A thorough report on findings of the tests will appear in Monday's issue of the Nugget.
